I've gone over this a number of times, adjusted and got it down to 19 minutes. I'm still concerned about boredom though because there isn't much here except verbiage. I was trying to think of something to glitz it up and came up with maybe a map of case example locations, but I only spend a few seconds on that slide. I put the Region 6 map in front to have something, but still concerned. I've also rearranged and slightly edited some of the findings for flow. Interested in your thoughts. Are the major findings captured without too much dilution? Are points accurately made? Any other suggestions before next dry run? Also, I wanted to put the poster in as the very last slide but despite multiple tries, it is deformed when blocked and copied to this pres. Thanks.
